

Camco Technologies – Mechanical Engineer

Function

- You take to heart the mechanical development of new products (R&D project).
- You work on several R&D projects in parallel.
- You draw out these products in Inventor.
- You are creative in finding technical solutions. You have good spatial insight.
- You can work and report in a structured way.
- You model the new products accurately in the ERP production model.
- You request quotations from suppliers.
- You test prototypes yourself together with the R&D technician.

Profile

- You have a higher education degree (master level) in mechanical engineering
- You have a first work experience, min. 3 years of experience.
- You have a general interest in technology and engineering. You also like to keep up to date and regularly learn new technologies
- You can express yourself fluently in Dutch and English
- You have a sense of order, you are handy and are not afraid to help install and regularly roll up your sleeves
- You are not afraid to plan your own work and that of your team. You get things done and you enjoy bringing R&D projects to a successful end
- You have a natural helicopter view, you work in a calculated and reasoned way and you set priorities automatically
- The following terms suit you perfectly: involved, entrepreneurial, independent but also a team player, autonomous, solution-oriented, result-oriented, persevering, customer-oriented, communicative

Offer

- You will work in a high-tech, growing and challenging environment (SME mentality), where you will have opportunities to further develop your competences
- An open-ended contract with competitive salary, flexible hours, company car according to car policy, group insurance, hospitalisation insurance, meal vouchers, eco vouchers

- A challenging position in a company where drive and entrepreneurship are appreciated
- Free soup and fruit every day
- Company events
- Easy to reach by car
- Parking available

<https://www.camco.be>